Annual governance statement by the Chair of Trustees - 2022

Hempsons Staff Pension Scheme (1988)

Introduction

Governance rules apply to defined contribution pension arrangements like the Hempsons Staff Scheme, which are designed to help members achieve a good outcome from their pension savings. This statement explains what steps have been taken by the trustee board, with help from our professional advisers, to meet these standards.

The Trustees are required to produce a yearly statement to describe how these governance requirements have been met in relation to:

- the investment options in which members can invest (including any "default arrangement");
- the requirements for processing financial transactions;
- the charges and transaction costs borne by members;
- an illustration of the cumulative effect of these costs and charges;
- a 'value for members' assessment and trustee knowledge and understanding.

If you have any questions about anything that is set out below, or any suggestions about what can be improved, please contact Sandy Docherty on 01423 724089 (s.docherty@hempsons.co.uk)

Investment arrangements

The Trustees are responsible for investment governance. This includes setting and monitoring the investment strategy for the Scheme's default arrangement.

The Scheme has been closed to new members and contributions since 2001 and is treated as being 'paid up'. Note however the comments below about the intention to wind this scheme up.

Each member has their own individual policy which is governed by the trustees. Members have the usual range of options. Their policies can be

- Left as they are – investments can be changed by individual members
- Transferred to another pension arrangement
- 'Crystallised' and withdrawn as a cash sum or pension (subject to tax)

Members should take independent advice when doing any of these things. They should be aware of pension scams and the Financial Conduct Authority has information on avoiding these:

The Equitable Life With Profit fund, in which scheme assets had been invested since inception, was closed in 2020. Each member's own fund was given a substantial uplift when the money was transferred into Utmost's unit linked funds, which was beneficial to members.

Utmost offers a range of investment funds to members and they can choose which funds are suitable for their own circumstances. If no individual choice is made, Utmost will invest in a default strategy which is called 'Investing by Age'. As members approach retirement age (the scheme's normal retirement age is 65), their investments are progressively moved into more cautious funds, and the trustees feel this is appropriate for members. The aim is to reduce risk and offer greater security as members approach retirement.

The scheme's default investment strategy was reviewed when the transfer from Equitable Life took place and the Multi-Asset Funds offered by Utmost are suitable options for members. They offer scope for long-term growth but with moderate risk.

The funds used within the Investing by Age strategy are:

- Multi-Asset Moderate – which is for younger members still in the 'growth' phase.
- Multi-Asset Cautious – for members approaching retirement, the funds are more defensive.
- Money Market – this is when everything is in cash prior to retirement age.

These funds are managed for Utmost by JP Morgan Asset Management.

Multi-Asset funds are deemed appropriate for members because they offer a broad spread of investment across a wide range of asset classes – shares, bonds, property, cash, etc. As the strategy gets more cautious, the exposure to shares is reduced in favour of less risky investments. Note though that while the aim is to reduce risk as one moves towards retirement, all savings and investments carry their own risks and in a time of high inflation and interest rates, such as those we are experiencing now, all investments can be adversely affected. Investment conditions over the last year have been particularly difficult for all asset classes.

However, the Multi Asset approach, which is the default for members of the scheme, remains the most appropriate as it continues to try to balance out risks across a wide range of assets classes. As mentioned, all members have access to a range of other funds should they wish to manage their own investments.

Utmost Life and Pensions prepares an investment fund bulletin each quarter to provide members with information about the performance of the funds that members' funds are invested in. Information relating to fund prices can be obtained from Utmost Life and Pensions website using this link:

Other information, including the factsheets for individual funds are available on:

You can also find information about how Utmost manage their unit-linked funds here:

This includes information about Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors which are becoming increasingly important in how investment funds are managed.

Charges and transaction costs paid by members.

There are no explicit charges or transaction costs within the scheme, and no contributions have been paid into the scheme. Fund management charges are taken from within the Utmost funds and these are felt to be reasonable at 0.75% pa on the multi-asset funds.

The employer pays all the other charges of the scheme such as accounting, reporting and financial advice.

The nature of the scheme, being wholly in deferred funds, represents good value because of the absence of explicit costs taken from members' individual policies.

Core financial transactions

The Trustees are required to report to you about the processes and controls in place in relation to the "core financial transactions", including the following:

- investing contributions paid into the Scheme;
- transferring assets related to members into or out of the Scheme;
- transferring assets between different investments within the Scheme; and
- making payments from the Scheme to or on behalf of members.

The Trustees must ensure that these important financial transactions are processed promptly and accurately. In practice we delegate responsibility for this to the Scheme administrator. Our Scheme administration is delivered with the help of financial advisers Chamberlain de Broe. If members wish to transfer or take benefits from their policies they should contact Sandy Docherty (as above) telling her what they wish to do. She will then arrange for documentation to be provided.

Given that the scheme is closed, there are no payments into the scheme. The scheme administrators therefore administer any transfers out of the scheme that members wish to make. Members are entitled to switch their own funds as they wish and there are at present no switching costs (although Utmost do reserve the right to introduce one in the future). There are no costs in transferring your funds to other pension policies, nor are there costs in crystallising benefits such as taking lump sums.

We are confident that the processes and controls in place with the administrator are robust and will ensure that the financial transactions which are important to members are dealt with properly. In addition, noting that we need accurate member data to process contributions and payments correctly, we continually review and correct any problems with the member data which is held by the Scheme administrator.

Members' contact information

To this end, members should always ensure that the trustees have up-to-date contact information – home addresses, e-mail addresses and phone numbers.

Wind up of scheme

Following all of the previous comments about the scheme, the trustees are reviewing whether it would be in the members' best interests to wind up the scheme and transfer benefits to a scheme that will offer each individual greater freedom and flexibility with their own benefits. The trustees believe that the costs of the scheme can be reduced which will be of further benefit to the members. Having said above that the annual management charges of the funds are reasonable at 0.75%, the trustees have considered other options and believe that these costs can be improved. The aim therefore is to transfer all members funds to a scheme which has a charge of 0.4% pa.

The trustees have reviewed this at this time because the transfer from Equitable Life to Utmost (including the encashment of the With Profit fund), represented a suitable opportunity to do this.

Once a final decision has been made and implementation can be started, each member will be written to with details about the transfer, and how this will benefit them.

Any further general updates will be added to the scheme website when necessary.
